Sonoma, California's 3 Badge Beverage Corporation has added three new extensions to its Bozal mezcal line, bringing the brand's portfolio to a total of 11 offerings. The first release, Tepeztate, Single Maguey, is made from Marmorata agave sourced from Santa Ana del Rio and will retail at around $80. Bozal Tobalá, Reserva is produced in San Juan Bautista Jayacatlán from Potatorium agave and will retail at $129. The final release, Chino Verde, Reserva, is made in Sola de Vega in open-air wooden tubs, and will retail at $129. All three are now available in select U.S. markets.
